FOREWORD

THIS IS THE STORY of our high school life — the big events that have been most important, and the little ones that we shall always remember and cherish. It is work, of course, but when mixed with pleasures it becomes the glory of a well rounded year. In relating it to you in pictures and words, we have endeavored to continue the fine traditions of the past and to inject some new ideas for the appreciation and enjoyment of all. We have had a great deal of pleasure publishing the 1946 Ceniad, and we hope that you, from undergraduates to alumni, will get much enjoyment reading it.

DEDICATION

WE, THE CLASS OF 1946, respectfully dedicate our Ceniad to Mr. E. W. Kiebler in appreciation of the help and interest he has shown us, not only in our high school lives but outside as well. You have been a true friend, Mr. Kiebler; thank you.

Administration

DR. FRED DIXON, Superintendent of Schools

University of Missouri

. . . the lean, likable gentleman whose cheery words of greeting in the hall has gained for him our respect and admiration. Dr. Dixon, with his easy manner of speech and genuine interest in the future citizens of East Lansing, has helped considerably in the progress of our town.

May we present the directing force behind the scenes in this theater of education . . . the Board of Education—

CLARENCE E. HINCHEY, Principal

University of Michigan

... under whose able direction the student government of East Lansing High School has grown and prospered. Mr. Hinchey's fine community spirit has made our school a pleasant place in which to work, and we shall remember him as we journey onward into life.

DOROTHY STOPHLET, Assistant Principal

Michigan State College

... a person to whom everyone, especially the seniors, has been able to turn for help and guidance. We bid her a fond farewell, knowing how much we will miss her friendly smile.

Trojan Trumpet

The Trojan Trumpet, one of the most important productions at East Lansing High School is celebrating its second year's run as a printed paper. The Trumpet, because of its excellent performance, is a member of the Quill and Scroll, national high school journalistic honorary.

It is presented every other Friday and brings to the students reports of the latest school happenings and other matters of student interest. It holds many entertaining feature articles and encourages free expression of student opinion on school issues through letters to the editor. Any issue of importance to the student is discussed in the editorial column. The Trumpet provides the entire company with as much training in journalistic practice as possible.

This past year it presented an assembly with Vernon J. Brown, the lieutenant-governor of Michigan, as the guest speaker. The first photograph larger than half-column size appeared this year for the first time in the paper's history.

The main cast consists of Albert Applegate, editor in chief; Rosanne Renno and Marianna Weaver, associate editors; Joan VanDervoort, news editor; Nancy Hope, feature editor; Ted Swift, sports editor; Bob Stanley, art editor; and Kay Ritts, junior high editor. The cast is supported by many reporters, typists, and copyreaders. The directors are Miss Findley and Miss Cuff.

Back row: F. Rice D. Martin, R. Pierson, A. Lundin, J. Meyer, C. Bachman, J. Herrick, R. Amundson, A. Apple-gate, I. Hill, J. Muncie, H. Hubbard, K. Edelson, M. Leonard.

First row: Mr. Hinchey, E. Mitchell, V. Bauer, T. Swift—President, K. Marshall—Vice President, D. Otto, Miss Stophlet..

Senior Student Council

Enthusiasm among the members of the council ran high this year, and as a result the accomplishments of the school's highest body were many. Things were started in a big way when the Council sponsored the bonfire pep meeting before the Sturgis game in the fall.

One of the Council's first moves was to enact an important law which bans flowers at several of the formal parties held at the school.

The next triumph that was well received was an hilarious Hallowe'en Party given by the Council with the aid of the Mothers and Dads Club. It was held under the floodlights of the football field, and everyone in school participated.

Christmas time rolled around, and the Council aided other organizations in gathering food for the needy. The United Nations Clothing Collection was sponsored in the high school by the Council, and the amount of clothing collected was substantial.

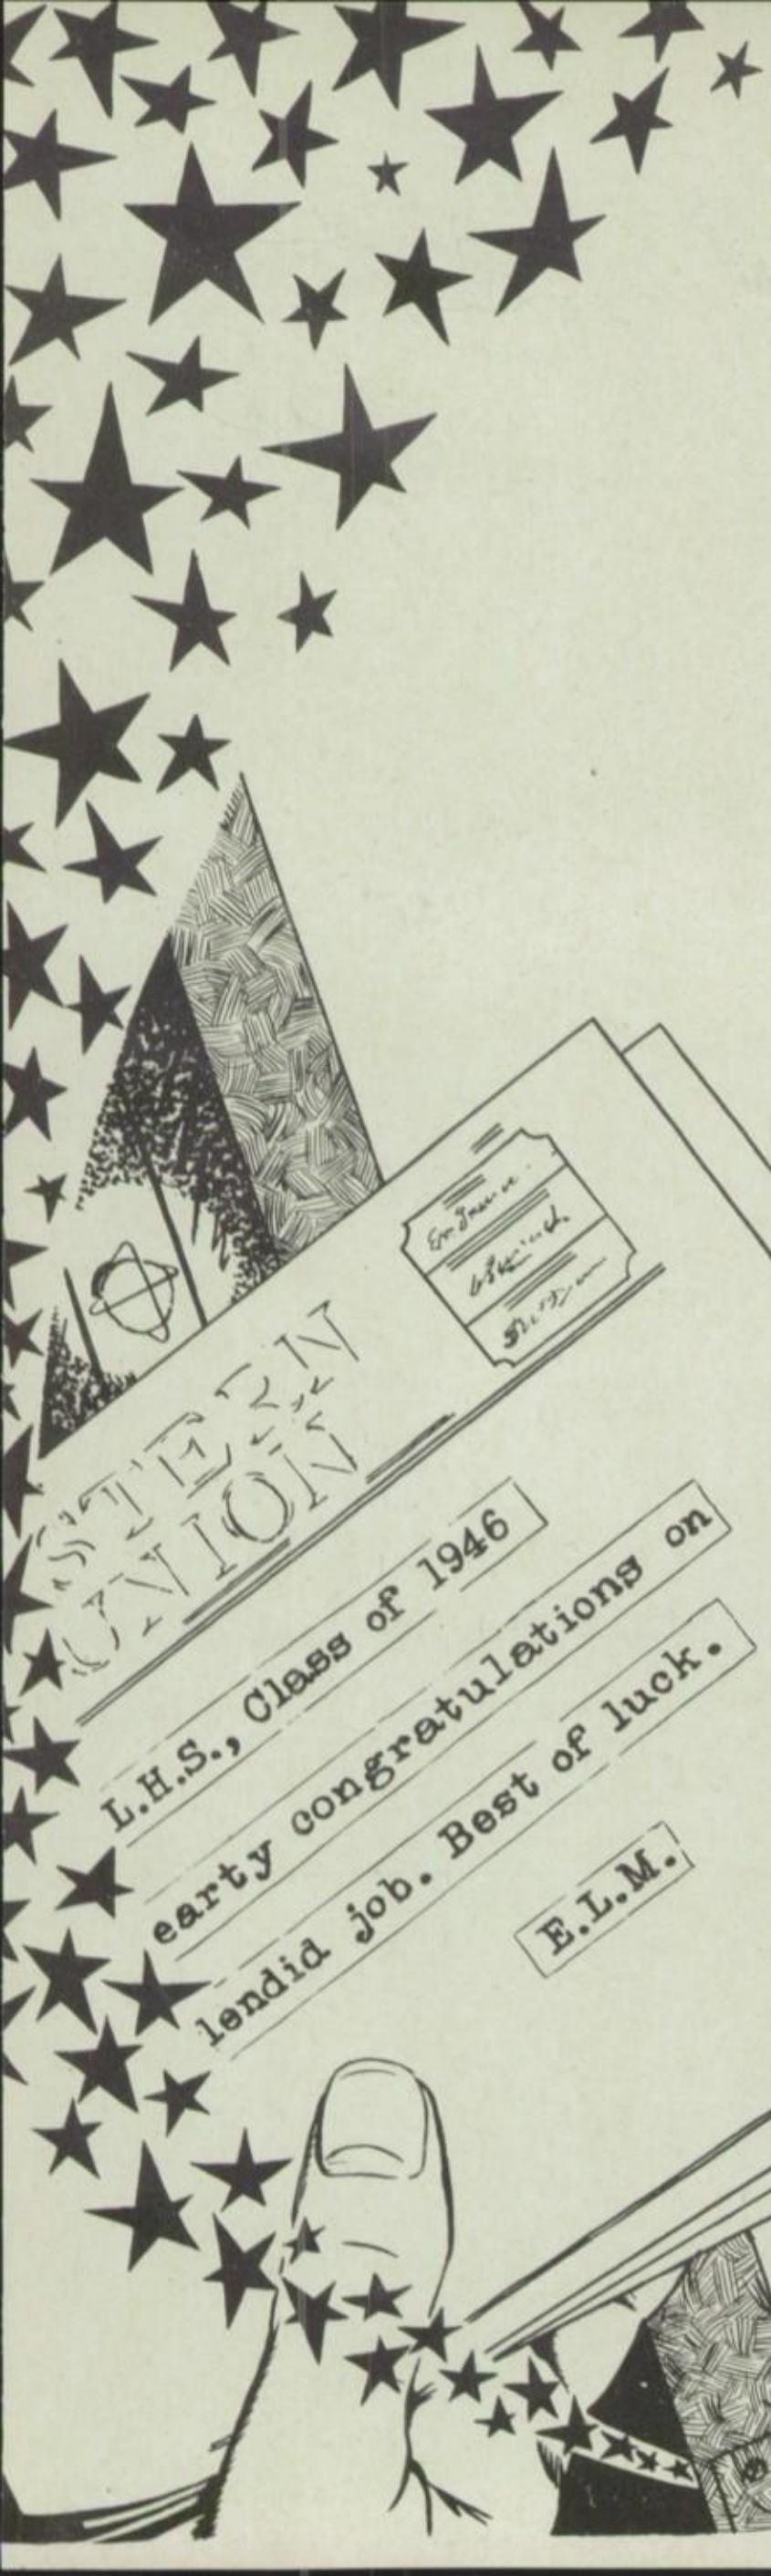

An innovation this year was the assembly given by the Council in which the members presented to the school the several current problems that were confronting them at the time. Both sides of the argument were presented, and students were invited to give their opinions. Many ideas were gathered, and the Council was thus enabled to continue with its work more speedily.

Two things that had never before been accomplished were major projects of this year's group. They were the carnival and the student handbook. The carnival was a huge success, and it took in much money that was used for the betterment of the school. The handbook was published late in the year, and it supplied newcomers to the school with desired information and aided the younger students in finding out facts that they were unaware of.

The school store was maintained throughout every day of the school year. Election of the new president for next year was the last job handled by this year's Council.

TED SWIFT, President.

Senior Class History

WELL KIDS, here it is the last act of our play—the biggest and best play ever to be seen around the halls of East Lansing High.

Remember that first act? We started out with a bang by taking the prize for the dues drive: We really had a bunch of rugged officers that year. We were headed by "Blimp" Muncie as president; Rolf Amundson, vice president; Ernie Bueschlen, secretary, and Bill Cameron, treasurer.

Speaking of being rugged, remember "Cuddy" Shaver? The boys were really sorry to see him go and all wondered what the school board would send us next.

Do any of you remember that party we put on during our Soph year? I think that it was "Midnight Mood." Headed by Dick Otto and a most excellent choice of committees, they made it the best prom in many years. I'm sure you will all remember how all floated around the floor as if they were inspired by the music of Ed Berry.

We really did a fine job with our first act and were eager for the next one.

We started that year with Bob Stanley as president; Mary Ellen Wyngarden, vice president; Helen Hubbard, secretary; and Ted Swift, treasurer. (How did those girls get in there? Something must have gone wrong.)

"Something new has been added," was what the boys found when they reported for football. It was that man—Coach Dale Faunce. Our boys helped the school by giving it an undefeated football season. They didn't do bad in basketball either. We were runners up in the state tournaments.

Then came "The Fighting Littles". Remember Bill Faunce? What a scream! Why that was such a wonderful play we even had to turn down people because the auditorium was overflowing.

And then, that wonderful J-Hop. What a sensation! The Gay Paree with Gene Devine and all of the paper that we pasted all over the walls. That thrilling sensation was headed by "Blimp" Muncie and Ken Edleson, a pair of boys that really know how to handle things.

We ended our junior year with our Junior-Senior Banquet. After those superb prophecies we were ready to begin our senior year.

Well the final act has come and we are really throwing it around.

Our football season was pretty good, and the boys chose Jack Dingman and Ralph Stribe as co-captains and Joe Slotnick as the most valuable player.

Remember that Home Coming Dance! That's when Mr. Kiebler crowned Otto and Finney.

"The Seven Sisters"—that was our big Senior play. Boy, was that a wonderful play! It took us an hour to clear the auditorium. The crowd just wouldn't leave.

The team did good in basketball too. We were third in the league and took the district crown.

This year Ted Swift headed the Student Council. Albert Applegate was at the head of the Trojan Trumpet; Dick Cook guided the Ceniad; and all of these boys have really done a fine job.

The class was headed by Dick Otto, as president; Dick Cook, vice president; Bill Faunce, secretary; and Harley Burr, treasurer.

Along about January somebody mentioned a class trip and it set the whole class afire. We got busy and with a little trouble convinced certain people that it was a good idea. What a time we had on that trip! It will never be forgotten.

We started to finish off the year with the Junior-Senior Banquet. Then came that wonderful Senior Prom headed by Bill Faunce. Although Bill Faunce objected, we finally danced to the music of Gene Devine.

Then for the lucky ones who got by the exams we were handed our diplomas on the 13th of June, 1946. It took a long time but we finally made it and had the best times of our lives getting there.

Junior Class

*We're really not quite a

Don

THE CLASS OF '47 passed a very successful year under the capable leadership of John Meyer, president; Don Lorenz, vice president; Carolyn Robbins, secretary; and Gary Beery, treasurer. With the helpful and sincere guidance of Miss Margaret Newhouse and Miss Margaret Cuff, class advisors, the juniors were able to accomplish many worthwhile things.

Besides being well represented in all fields of athletics and having many of their illustrious Trojan heroes bring honor and prestige to the class in the form of coveted "E" letter awards, the class sponsored several after-game informal dances in the high school gymnasium. These and a city-wide paper drive in May helped to raise the financial standing of the class.

"Lady, Be Good", the outstanding dramatic success of the year, was presented April 12, and many talented juniors were seen in starring roles. It was ably directed by Mrs. Minerva Chaney.

Moonlight and mellow music, and a festive high school gymnasium were the settings of the annual J-Hop, given April 27. Following this fine party, the '47ers continued adding to their growing list of successful accomplishments.

The juniors closed their school year by officiating at the Junior-Senior Banquet, and taking part in the formal and lovely graduation services.

Thus it is with fond hopes, the members of the junior class look forward to an even better senior year with ample opportunities to add to their list of achievements.

LAST SPRING the class of '48 met to elect officers. Jim Thomson was elected president; Cynthia Doyle, vice president; Bob Kropschot, treasurer; and Jim Adams, secretary. With Miss Florence May Findley and Mrs. Mahlon Herrick as sponsors, the class was off to a good start.

On October 5, after the football game at which the lights were dedicated, the sophs sponsored an hour dance. Cokes were served throughout and a gay time was had by everybody. The party was a success, and a great deal of credit is due the committees that worked on it.

The class of '48 climaxed its social season with its biggest party of the year, the Soph Prom, held on January 12. Over sixty couples danced to the music of Ken Maxted's orchestra at the opening of "Club 48" in the "Blue Room." High hat dance favors were presented to each. In keeping with the night club theme, the stage was attractively decorated with huge champagne glasses from which sparkling bubbles emitted. A modern knotty pine bar, from which cokes were served throughout the evening, stood in one end of the club room, and rustic tables were placed along the edge of the dance floor. A floor show including numbers by a trio and piano selections furnished entertainment during intermission, after which the grand march, led by Jim Thomson and Charmy Arnett, highlighted the evening. Committee chairmen for this party were Barbara Peeke, decorations; Fran Hanslovsky, orchestra; Dorothy Vickers, entertainment, and Jim Adams, refreshments.

In the athletic world, the sophs are prominent. In football both Bob Foster and John Dykstra received varsity E's for their outstanding work. Jake Slotnick will get his letter in basketball this year, which is unusual for a soph. Ronnie Penner, who held a regular berth on the baseball team and received his varsity letter as a freshman, will undoubtedly bring more honors to the class of '48.

The sophs are well represented on the library staff; namely, B. Foster, B. Hafer, J. Herrick, B. Leichty, M. Leonard, C. Moore, J. Reddy, and J. Slotnick.

Freshman Class

WHEN THE FRESHMEN had their class organization meeting in September, they elected the following officers: Bill Metzel, president; Bill Waddell, vice president; Bob Ewing, secretary; and Paul Finney, treasurer.

Almost all the boys reported for football in the fall, and the reserve team starting line featured two freshmen—Tom Otto, fullback, and Larry Cooke, center. Both were good line backers and played some excellent games.

In early December, the freshmen held their big party of the year, using the theme, "Moonlight Mood." The gymnasium was decorated with stars pinned on the false ceiling. At intermission, Max Strothers, Joanne Neff, and Joan Dewey provided the entertainment, along with a sextet of boys, singing. Committee chairmen were Carol Grams, invitations; Art Rice, entertainment; Roberta Rinkes, decorations; Bill Waddell, refreshments; and Tom Otto, clean-up. The party was a big success and the class enjoyed it very much.

Freshmen played a major role in basketball as the reserve team was composed of about fifty per cent freshmen. Bill Waddell, Larry Cooke, George Prall, Tom Otto, and Bill Metzel—all saw action in games. Many freshmen showed great promise and future ability.

For reasons beyond their control the ninth graders did not get on either the junior or senior council this year. Nevertheless, the freshman class was one of the outstanding classes in school. Bud Baker and Mary Claire Leonhardt performed admirably in the language assembly quiz program. There were other outstanding individuals in the class, too numerous to name.

With advisers such as Mrs. Charles Walker and Miss Ruby Johnson, how could the "forty-niners" go wrong? Now the freshmen have the spirit of a great class and intend to keep it on through high school. Next year East Lansing High School will profit by the class of '49.

Glee Clubs and A Cappella

THE MUSICAL BACKGROUND for East Lansing High School was furnished by the Girls' and Boys' Glee Clubs and A Cappella Choir under the direction of Miss Margaret Dooley.

The annual Christmas assembly was sponsored by the school's music department, and the part taken by the glee clubs was a very impressive and memorable one. In March they also presented an excellent assembly, which will linger long in the memories of E. L. students.

Several small singing groups were formed this year, such as the girls' trio and the boys' "barber shop" quartet. The glee clubs also presented programs for various clubs and meetings throughout the city.

In May, they presented a real old-time minstrel show which featured typical Negro music and novelty song and dance numbers.

The glee clubs did a great deal to create an ever increasing appreciation in music among the students at large, as well as the actual members.

Orchestra

STARTING OFF with a bang the East Lansing High School orchestra has chalked up another successful year after its name. Under the direction of Mr. Forrest Rinehart the orchestra made its first appearance in the Christmas assembly which was sponsored by the E.L.H.S. music department. The purpose of this organization is to gain appreciation of orchestral music while learning to play artistically and beautifully together.

At present the membership of the orchestra is small, but a music program has been set up in the grade schools from which the orchestra hopes to obtain some excellent musicians and thereby increase its membership.

After appearing in assemblies the orchestra took its final bow at the spring concert in May.

Senior Band

THE EAST LANSING BAND under the very able direction of Mr. Rinehart harmonized its way through another successful year in 1946. The marching band was present at many of the home football games, and did much to add color and spice to the occasion. With the money raised at its winter concert, the band was able to follow the team to Hillsdal and present a fine half-time routine.

When the basketball season rolled around, a pep band was formed, and played at most of the home games as well as many outside functions.

The band has long been serving the school with entertainment, but only this year did it really begin to take an active part in outside activities. Every student can be proud of the showing that the band made at the Michigan State College basketball games.

With an already long line of fine performances behind them, the band closed the year by presenting its Spring Concert, and taking part in the District Music Festival held in East Lansing.

Senior Play

ON THAT long-to-be-remembered night of November 16, 1945, the class of '46 under the expert direction of Mrs. Bruegel presented the laugh-filled comedy, "Seven Sisters."

The plot centered around a Hungarian widow, Mrs. Gyurkovics, played by Honey Van-Dervoort, and her seven daughters, whom she is trying desperately to marry off.

When the play opens, Mama is trying to interest the oldest daughter, Katinka, portrayed by Anita Wellman, in young stupid Baron Gida, Bob Stanley. Katinka cannot tolerate the Baron; and until she marries, the other girls must also remain single. Mama receives word that her god-son, Toni Teleki, is coming to visit. At this point, Mitzi, enacted by Nancy Decker, arrives home from the convent where she was sent when Mama could no longer manage her.

Mitzi has been expelled from the convent because she attended a ball in Budapest without permission. The whole family is aghast in this; and when the young baron comes to see Katinka, they all go into the parlor to entertain him, leaving Mitzi alone.

She happens to look out of the window and see the young man with whom she danced at the ball. She doesn't know his name; so she sends Junko, the houseboy (Bill Wise) after him. The young lieutenant, whose name is Ferenz Horkoy, played by Ted Swift, recognizes Mitzi and proceeds to help her to get her sisters married. At this point Mrs. Gyurkovics enters and mistakes Horkoy to be her god-son, Toni Teleki. From there the plot unfolds with many a laugh.

Katinka marries the young baron's uncle, Colonel Radviany, Albert Applegate; Sari, Joan Washburn, becomes the wife of a young officer, Lieutenant Sandorffy, Ted Stroud; and Ella, Mary Ellen Wyngarden, finally marries the poor baron. The climax of the story comes in the second act when the real Toni Teliki, Bob Lawrence, appears; and Horkoy reveals his true identity.

The end of the play finds Mitzi and Horkoy engaged and Mama happily looking forward to marrying off the three little sisters, Nancy Hope, Eloise Mitchell, and Mary Lou Cooley.

The prompters were Claire Alubowicz and Jane Hootman.

AUTHORS

Miss MacDonald

Mrs. Herrick

THE PLOT starts out by explaining that this club is a junior branch of the Y.W.C.A., organized as a service league.

Several social events take place throughout the story beginning with a tea of welcome for all new members. This is followed by a bohemian and several informal dances after basketball and football games. Gerry Berry becomes a special character when he acted as Santa Claus at the Christmas party given for thirteen underprivileged children. The climax comes February 9, when the annual Snow Ball formal is held with Patty Jarred the chief character. A style show, tea, and another party for the underprivileged children finish out the social events.

The Service projects brought out by this best seller are as follows: Red Cross work for the hospitals, bake goods sales, selling hot dogs at football and basketball games, feeding the football team after games, and sponsoring the hall monitors.

The author further explains that this club is open to junior and senior girls. There are many opportunities for interesting and entertaining conferences sponsored by the Inter Club Council.

The organization is run on a point system this year, something new and different from previous years.

Junior Girl Reserves

THE JUNIOR GIRL RESERVES CLUB has the same purposes as the Senior Girl Reserves, but the members are freshman and sophomore girls. Charlotte Wellman was president this year, Holly Hay held the office of vice president, and Barbara Peeke and Martha Cooke were secretary and treasurer, respectively. Miss Johnson and Mrs. Walker were the sponsors.

The club was very active in service work this year. The girls folded bandages and paper bags for one of the local hospitals, they made Christmas favors, and they sponsored several bake sales after school.

On the social side the club was equally as active. They had many interesting speakers at meetings and also sponsored a talent program in which members furnished the entertainment. Throughout the year they gave several parties.

Varsity Club

Cast—JACK DINGMAN

DICK OTTO

Director—COACH FAUNCE

ACT I—

The purpose of the Varsity Club is to sponsor greater sportsmanship among the athletes of the school, to promote more interest in athletics, and to offer an organization for all letter winners.

ACT II—SCENE I—

The club, being composed entirely of letter winners, does not excel or go in for lavish social activities. The club did have a gigantic party-dance-hayride in January that all members thoroughly enjoyed.

SCENE II—

The club's service record has been excellent with many projects being sponsored. Notable achievements were as follows: the sponsoring of the football and basketball banquets, ushering at all games, maintenance of the trophy cases, and the production of an assembly.

ACT III—

The club, unlike others in the school, assures each newcomer to its ranks of a personal, heart-felt memory of those who receive them.

SOUL

HI-Y

THE HI-Y CLUB was led this year by Rolf Amundson, president; Joe Sur, vice-president; Don Mendelsohn, secretary; and Jack Peterson, treasurer. Mr. Cooke was the club's sponsor, but after he joined the Michigan State College faculty, Mr. Hatch took over the duties of adviser.

The club sent representatives to several Y.M.C.A. conferences in Battle Creek and Grand Rapids. Many excellent speakers and films were secured for the meetings throughout the year.

Hi-Y members worked on many service projects for the school. Although the Hi-Yers were not anti-social, still their motto this year seemed to be "all work."

Pan American Club

THE GOOD NEIGHBOR policy was well encouraged at East Lansing High School this year because of the efforts of the Pan American Club. Its membership consists of Spanish students who are interested in learning more about the customs of the South American people than can be learned in the classroom. The meetings are held bi-weekly on Tuesdays. Mrs. Johnston was their adviser; Sophie Lee, president; Una Carolyn Baker, vice president; Nancy Northam, secretary-treasurer; Mary Lou Cooley, program chairman; and Helen Hubbard, social chairman.

The purpose of this organization is tri-fold: first, to develop an interest in our South American Neighbors, their customs, their music, their homes, and their clothes; second, to help create and develop a sense of understanding between the countries of America; and third, to improve conversational Spanish.

By way of carrying out their purpose, the members invited representatives of South American countries to speak to the club, interesting films on music were shown, and parties with a touch of Spanish atmosphere were given and enjoyed by those present. Climaxing an intense dues drive at the beginning of the year, the members were entertained by Spanish Music at a bohemian dinner, a highlight of these parties.

For the project of this year, the club made a scrapbook of East Lansing to send to the high school of one of its members from Panama. Included in the scrapbook was interesting information on the school and the home life of typical East Lansing High School teen-agers, their classes, social activities, holidays, vacations and the typical American foods enjoyed by them. Accompanying each topic were appropriate sketches and pictures. A copy of the 1946 Ceniad was also sent with the scrapbook.

During Pan American week, the club set up displays around the school showing some of the poster work by Spanish students.

As a conclusion, the club presented a Walt Disney production of "South of the Border" in the Pan American assembly with a few student selections in addition.

Library Club

EAST LANSING'S TOP LITERARY GROUP

THE LIBRARY CLUB is open to boys and girls in grades nine through twelve. Each member receives one-fourth of a credit a year.

The aims of this organization are as follows: to promote more and better reading among the students; to provide substantial books for them; to make the library a quiet and convenient place to study; to insure an understanding of the place of the library in the school system for both teachers and students.

Bohemians, a Book Week tea for the faculty, the Halloween party at Sexton with Eastern's and Sexton's library staffs, and a Valentine party at East Lansing for Eastern and Sexton were among the social activities of the Club.

In the way of service each member works on the desk at least once a day, catalogues new books for the shelves, and organizes a card catalogue for Bailey School. The club sponsors a trip through the college library for the seniors, and also a Pocket Book Teen-Age Book Show.

Mrs. Ludwig is the sponsor. The officers are as follows:

Home Economics Club

THE OLD MEMBERS started out the year by trying to make homemakers out of the initiates. The new members were required to wear outlandish dresses which came far below their knees, a fancy apron and pumps with bobbie socks. Each wore a hair net on her head and carried a cook-book in her hands. The girls made a very domestic (?) picture.

Officers—Joan Washburn, president; Joan Allen, vice president; Bunny Rowley, secretary; Shirley Present, treasurer—decided to carry out the purpose of the club as far as possible. This purpose is: to promote friendship; to develop leadership and to provide good times for the high school girl by following the ideals which create desirable personalities, worthy home membership, and ability to serve our community, state, and nation.

The main social event, of course, was the formal, "Happy Holiday", presented December 1, with Eloise Mitchell and Phyllis Marshall as co-chairmen. Music was furnished by Bill Faunce's Orchestra. The second event was the informal "Sadie Hawkins" dance given in April. Later in the spring the club held its annual mother and daughter tea.

Finishing out the year was the meeting at which were chosen the new officers for the coming year.

FACTS

Science Club

THE REVIVAL of an old favorite at East Lansing High School was accomplished this year in the reorganization of the Science Club under the expert direction of Mr. Kiebler.

The chief aims of the club are to afford opportunity for experiments and discussion not possible in the classes, to acquaint the members with recent developments in physical science, to develop social experience, and to have fun and recreation with science.

An assembly program was presented by the club, and outstanding speakers were often guests at the meetings. Very interesting discussions and experiments were also held at the meetings, which were open to the entire student body.

The members, numbering fifty-two, sponsored many gala social affairs—"feeds", parties, and picnics. Among these was the never-to-be-forgotten dinner given in honor of the Varsity Club.

John Landon was president, Dick Cook held the office of vice president, and the duties of secretary and treasurer were carried out by Eloise Mitchell and Honey VanDervoort, respectively. Under this able leadership, the club had a very successful year.

Chef's Club

THE CHEF'S CLUB of East Lansing is unique. In the first place, it is a strictly masculine organization. Second, there are no privates in the ranks—all the members are officers, because, as you see, there are only four members. They are Don Meyer, president; John Buxton, vice president; Marlow Richards, secretary-treasurer; and Robert Horwood, steward. Mrs. Artutis is the club's sponsor.

The main purpose of the club is to learn and practice culinary art. When your editor visited one of the meetings—the club meets twice a month—she found the four “chefs” attired in tall white cooks’ hats and white aprons. They were all bent over a big kettle on the stove, and mysteriously whispered that it was one of their most delicious concoctions—the recipe was a secret.

The club planned a “cook-out” this year and several dinners. The Chef's Club had a very successful year.

THE PURPOSE of the Girls' Athletic Association is to sponsor and direct the activities of the girls' intramural program. The G.A.A. sells refreshments at games and gives several informal dances during the year.

G.A.A. is open to every girl in the school at any time during the school year. Any girl who participates in an activity of the intramural program becomes a member of the association and is eligible to work for a G.A.A. award. The girls are divided into teams according to grades, and the games are played every Tuesday after school.

INTERLUDES

IN THIS GREAT DRAMA of school life, vim, vigor, and vitality are the chief interludes between acts. The leading ladies that bring us all this pep and enthusiasm before basketball, football, and baseball games are Miriam Kunkel, Bette Hufford, Dottie Ingram, Barbara Schell, Nancy Hope, and Audrey Leshner. These girls help to stir up the school's spirit and give the boys that fighting punch. This vivacious cast's best interlude certainly was "Pep!"

Class of '50

WE STARTED our activities this year with the election of class officers. The following people were chosen: president, David Thomson; vice president, Jean Schafer; secretary, Mary Dean King; treasurer, Mary Anne Barrow. Mrs. Manfred Johnston and Miss Eva Kiplinger were our class advisers.

Twice during the year, the class of '50 went in strong for decorations. First the homeroom presidents agreed to decorate the goal posts for the home football games with the colors of East Lansing and the visiting team. With the help of a king size step ladder, Jon Parrish and some of the boys wrapped colored paper around the posts. Then at Christmas time the eighth grade homerooms arranged pine cones and branches over the school entrance doors.

Our social activities started off with a Halloween party in the Bailey school gymnasium for seventh and eighth graders. On the stage was a large painting of a haunted house with a harvest moon peeking over the roof. Corn shocks and lighted pumpkins completed the decorations. During the evening we enjoyed dancing and movies.

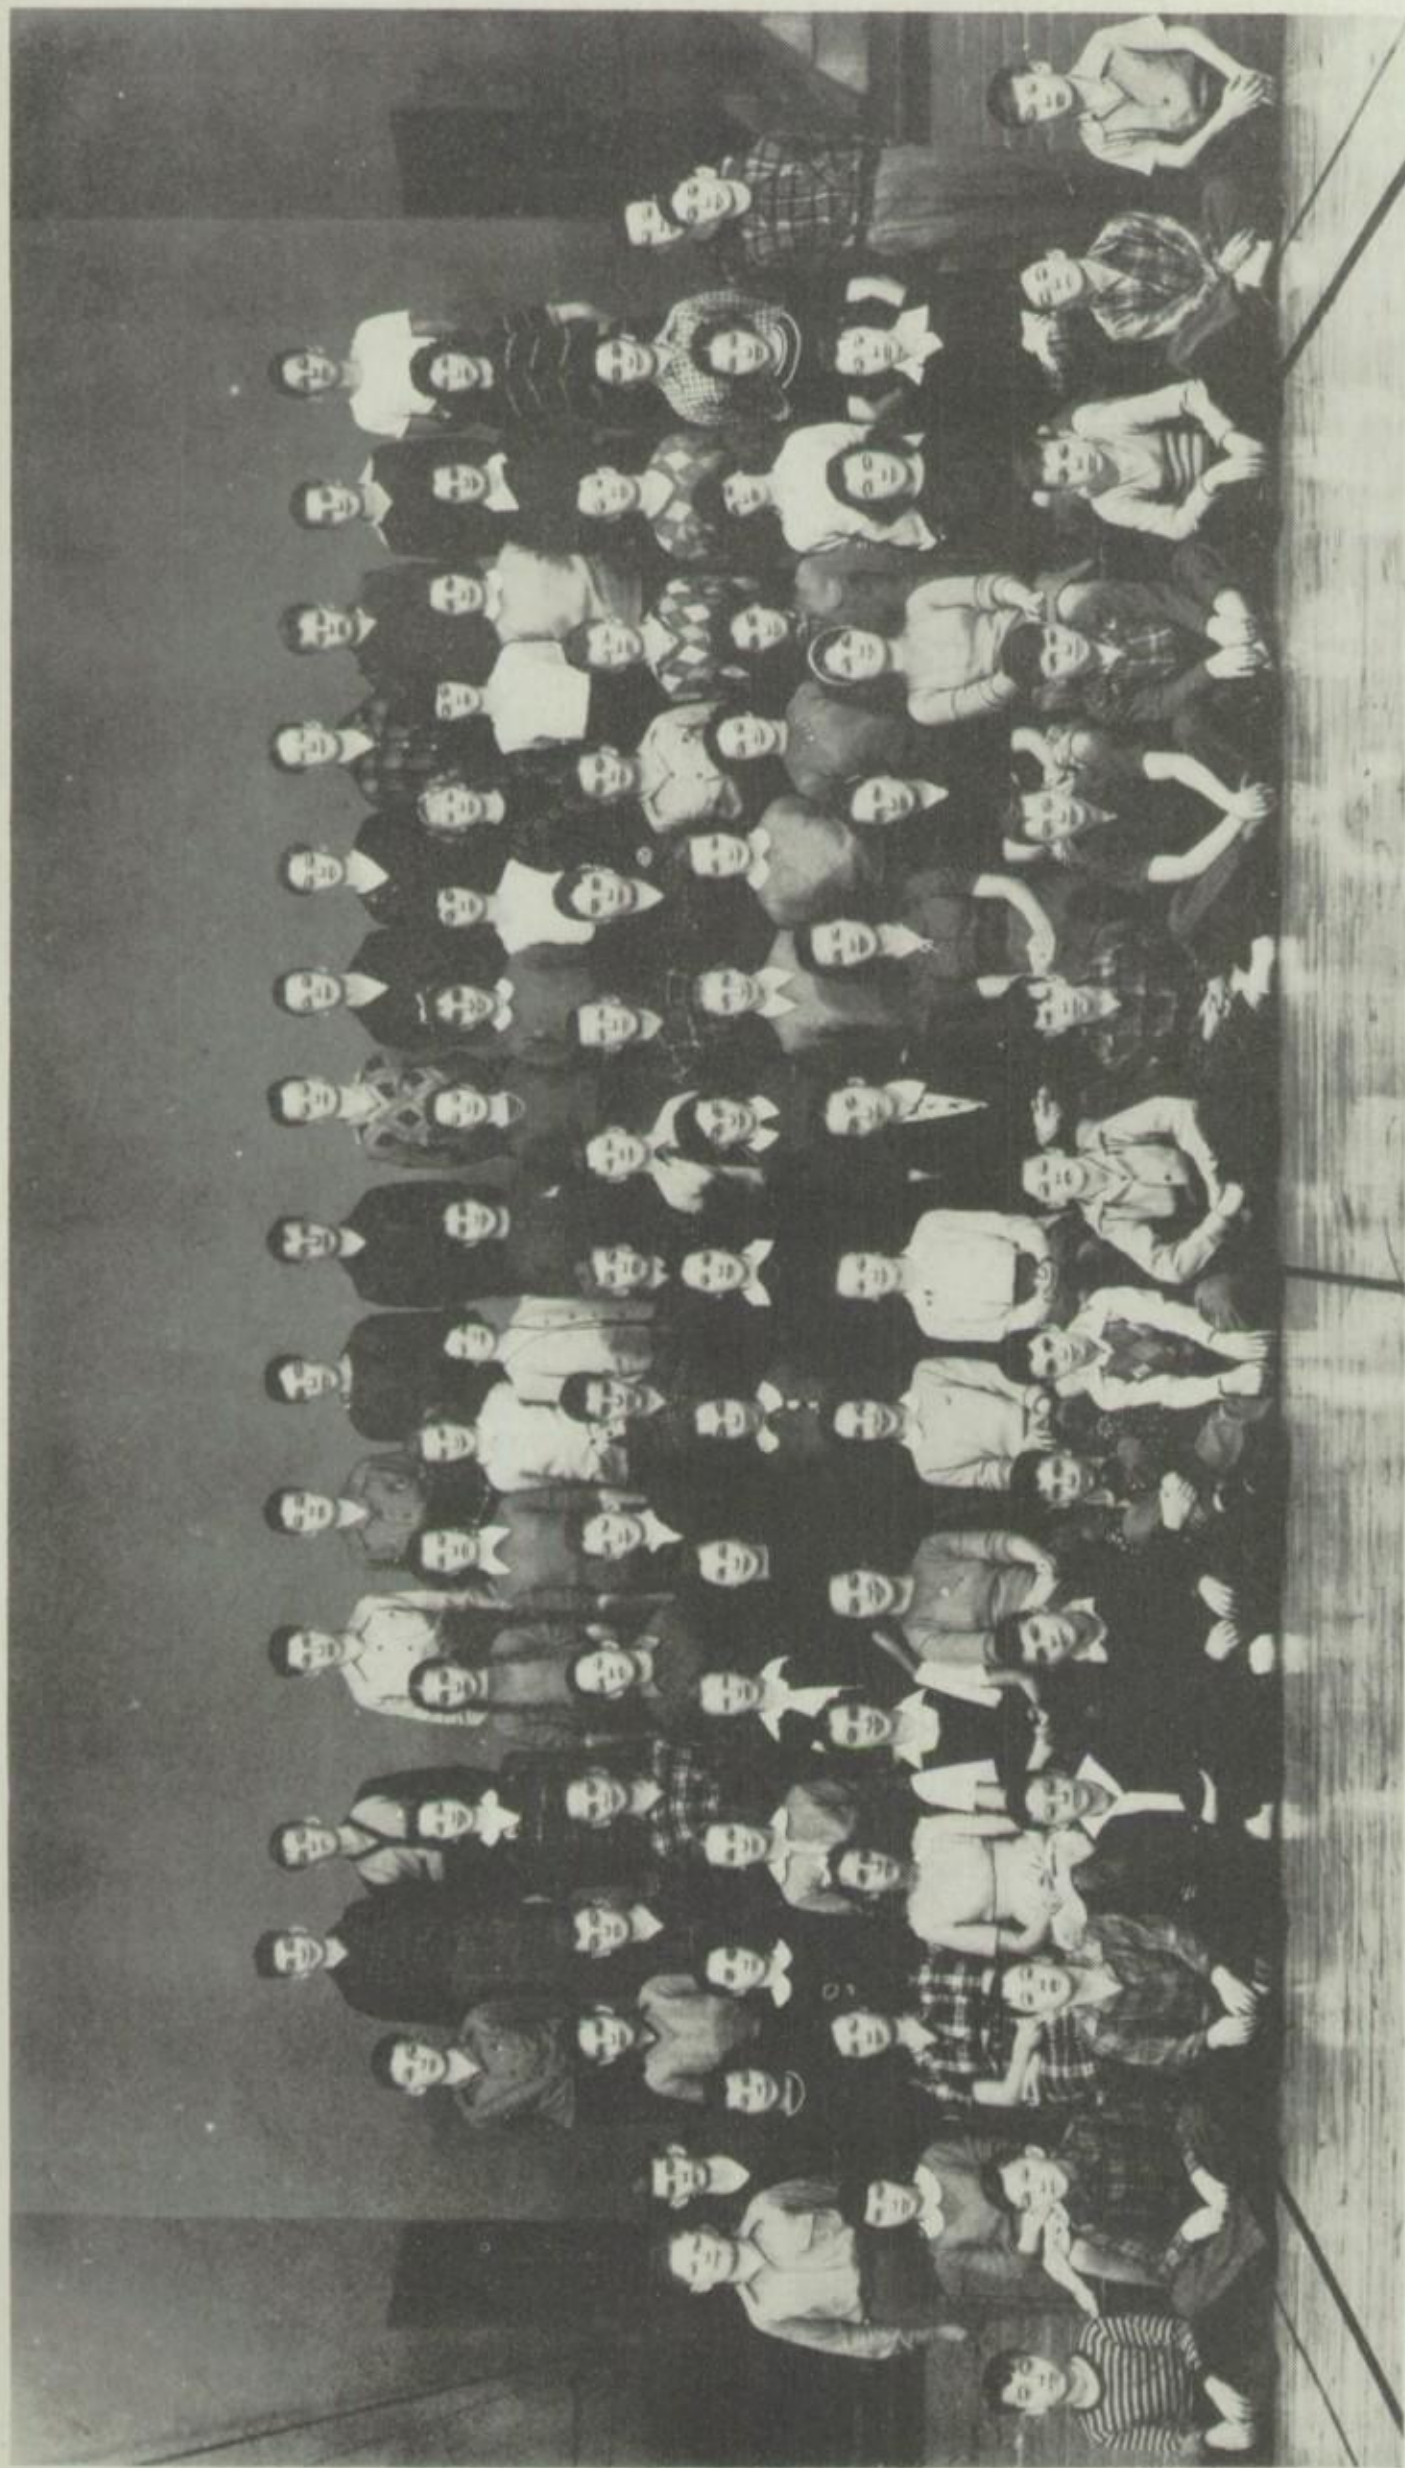

The big social event, however, was the "Moonlight Cruise" party in the high school gymnasium. The stage was set up like the quarter-deck of a cruise ship with a sailor standing at the wheel. In the background was a large model sail boat, and across the fronts of the stage were large paper fish. Our class and our guests danced to the music of the play-back. Jack Withrow and Jean Schafer were chosen King and Queen of the party. Hot dogs, soft drinks, and potato chips as refreshments topped off the evening's fun.

In the spring we had a picnic with plenty of food, and all enjoyed competing with our classmates in various relays and contests.

Our student council representatives were Mary Dean King, Bob Campbell and Mary Sue Carlyon.

Class of '51

AT LAST THE seventh grade has settled down to work and to become a part of East Lansing High School. We found life here very different from grade school, but in a few weeks we got used to it. The academic subjects weren't so awfully bad. Gym, art, shop, home ec., and music, both instrumental and vocal—we liked a lot. But dancing was something new! As soon as we learned a little more about it, tho, we thought it was fun, too.

The first class party was held in November in the afternoon after school. We played games, and tried out what we'd learned in dancing class, but we weren't very good, yet. Afterwards we relaxed on cider and doughnuts. Our second party was held on February 8 from seven to nine in the evening. By this time all of us could dance, and we had a lot of fun. We had more games, and three reels of moving pictures, and our refreshments were cokes and hotdogs. We called our party the "Saddle Shoe Shuffle." It was the first party we had with real decorations. Before school is out we plan to have a picnic when the weather gets warm.

We could never have done so much or had so much fun without our cooperative teachers. Mrs. Branaman and Miss Southworth who were our sponsors, were always ready to help.

The school spirit has been fine. Most of the class members came to all the football and basketball games, and had as much pep as anyone and did their share of cheering. We feel ours is one of the best classes to enter E.L.H.S. in many years, and each of us is going to try his best to make and keep this the best class in the school's history.

Junior Student Council

THE JUNIOR STUDENT COUNCIL has accomplished a great deal this year and hopes several traditions have been established. The election of Junior Student Council representatives was held in the junior high homerooms in October. Since then the seven members have met every two weeks on Thursday noon for luncheon meetings. Mary King was elected chairman and Patsy Ryder, secretary.

In the fall the goal post decorating was turned over to the Junior Student Council and at Christmas we decorated the entrances and halls of the building. We plan to make Christmas decorating an annual task of our organization. Also we took charge of filling the Red stockings for Christmas. Our Junior Student Council planned and presented a program for the Junior High Parent Teachers Association to show our parents some of our activities in junior high. The Junior Band, seventh and eighth grade dance classes, Science Club demonstration, art class puppet show, boys' physical education activities, Girls' Athletic Association, and songs by the seventh and eighth grade vocal music classes were all interesting parts of our program. Perhaps one Junior High P.T.A. program can be sponsored annually by the Junior Student Council.

We have several aims in mind. Another year it would be nice to have a special initiation service after the members are elected. We hope to establish one or two other traditional activities. One very important one is to plan for a program and some activities which will help the incoming seventh graders.

Homeroom representatives were able to assist and represent their classmates in affairs of importance in Junior High activities and we are striving to make the Junior High section a more important one in our school.

General Science Club

THE GENERAL SCIENCE CLUB was organized this year after several years' absence. The organization is composed of fifty eager eighth grade students with Mrs. Miller as our adviser. Officers elected were Jon Parrish, president; Elaine Wright, vice president; Carol Noll, secretary; and Dyrck Dewitt, treasurer. Committees were set up to carry on the business of the club. They are the constitution committee with Avery Haak as its chairman and Dyrck Dewitt, Bob Farrol, Betsy Jones; nominating committee with John Bachman, chairman and Margaret Weber, Bruce McCristal, Pat Cooley. The all important program committee is headed by Ted Eck. The monitors are always busy.

We hold club meetings every other Thursday afternoon. Our meetings are either short business meetings or longer meetings in which some one of our members gives an experiment.

We gave an assembly with Dr. Arnold O. Hougon as our speaker on conservation. We have gone on field trips to the Weather Bureau, museum, and to look at the stars through telescopes brought by our own members. Also, the General Science Club gave a five minute skit for a Parent Teachers Association meeting. It was a brief outline of what we do at our regular meetings.

The purpose of the club is to increase our knowledge of science and to understand the importance of science. Another purpose is to give service in the line of science to our school.

Instrumental Classes

PUSH THE MIDDLE VALVE DOWN . . .

MANY STUDENTS have taken advantage of the opportunity offered to learn to play a band or orchestra instrument in school. Classes are set up for the various instruments, and any student with enough interest to work can learn to play well enough to become a member of the orchestra or band.

Junior High Band

THE JUNIOR HIGH BAND is an outgrowth of the instrumental program started by Mr. Rinehart last year.

Its first appearance was in the spring concert and now it is an established organization. The band has a two-fold purpose; first, to be an active part in the junior high program and secondly, to serve as a training group for the Senior Band.

Dance Classes

THE DANCE CLASS for the seventh grade meets every Friday morning while the eighth grade class is held every other Friday. These dance periods give the students a wonderful chance to better their steps and gain more confidence in themselves. They are also taught the courtesies that should be extended to their patrons and guests at parties, as well as to one another.

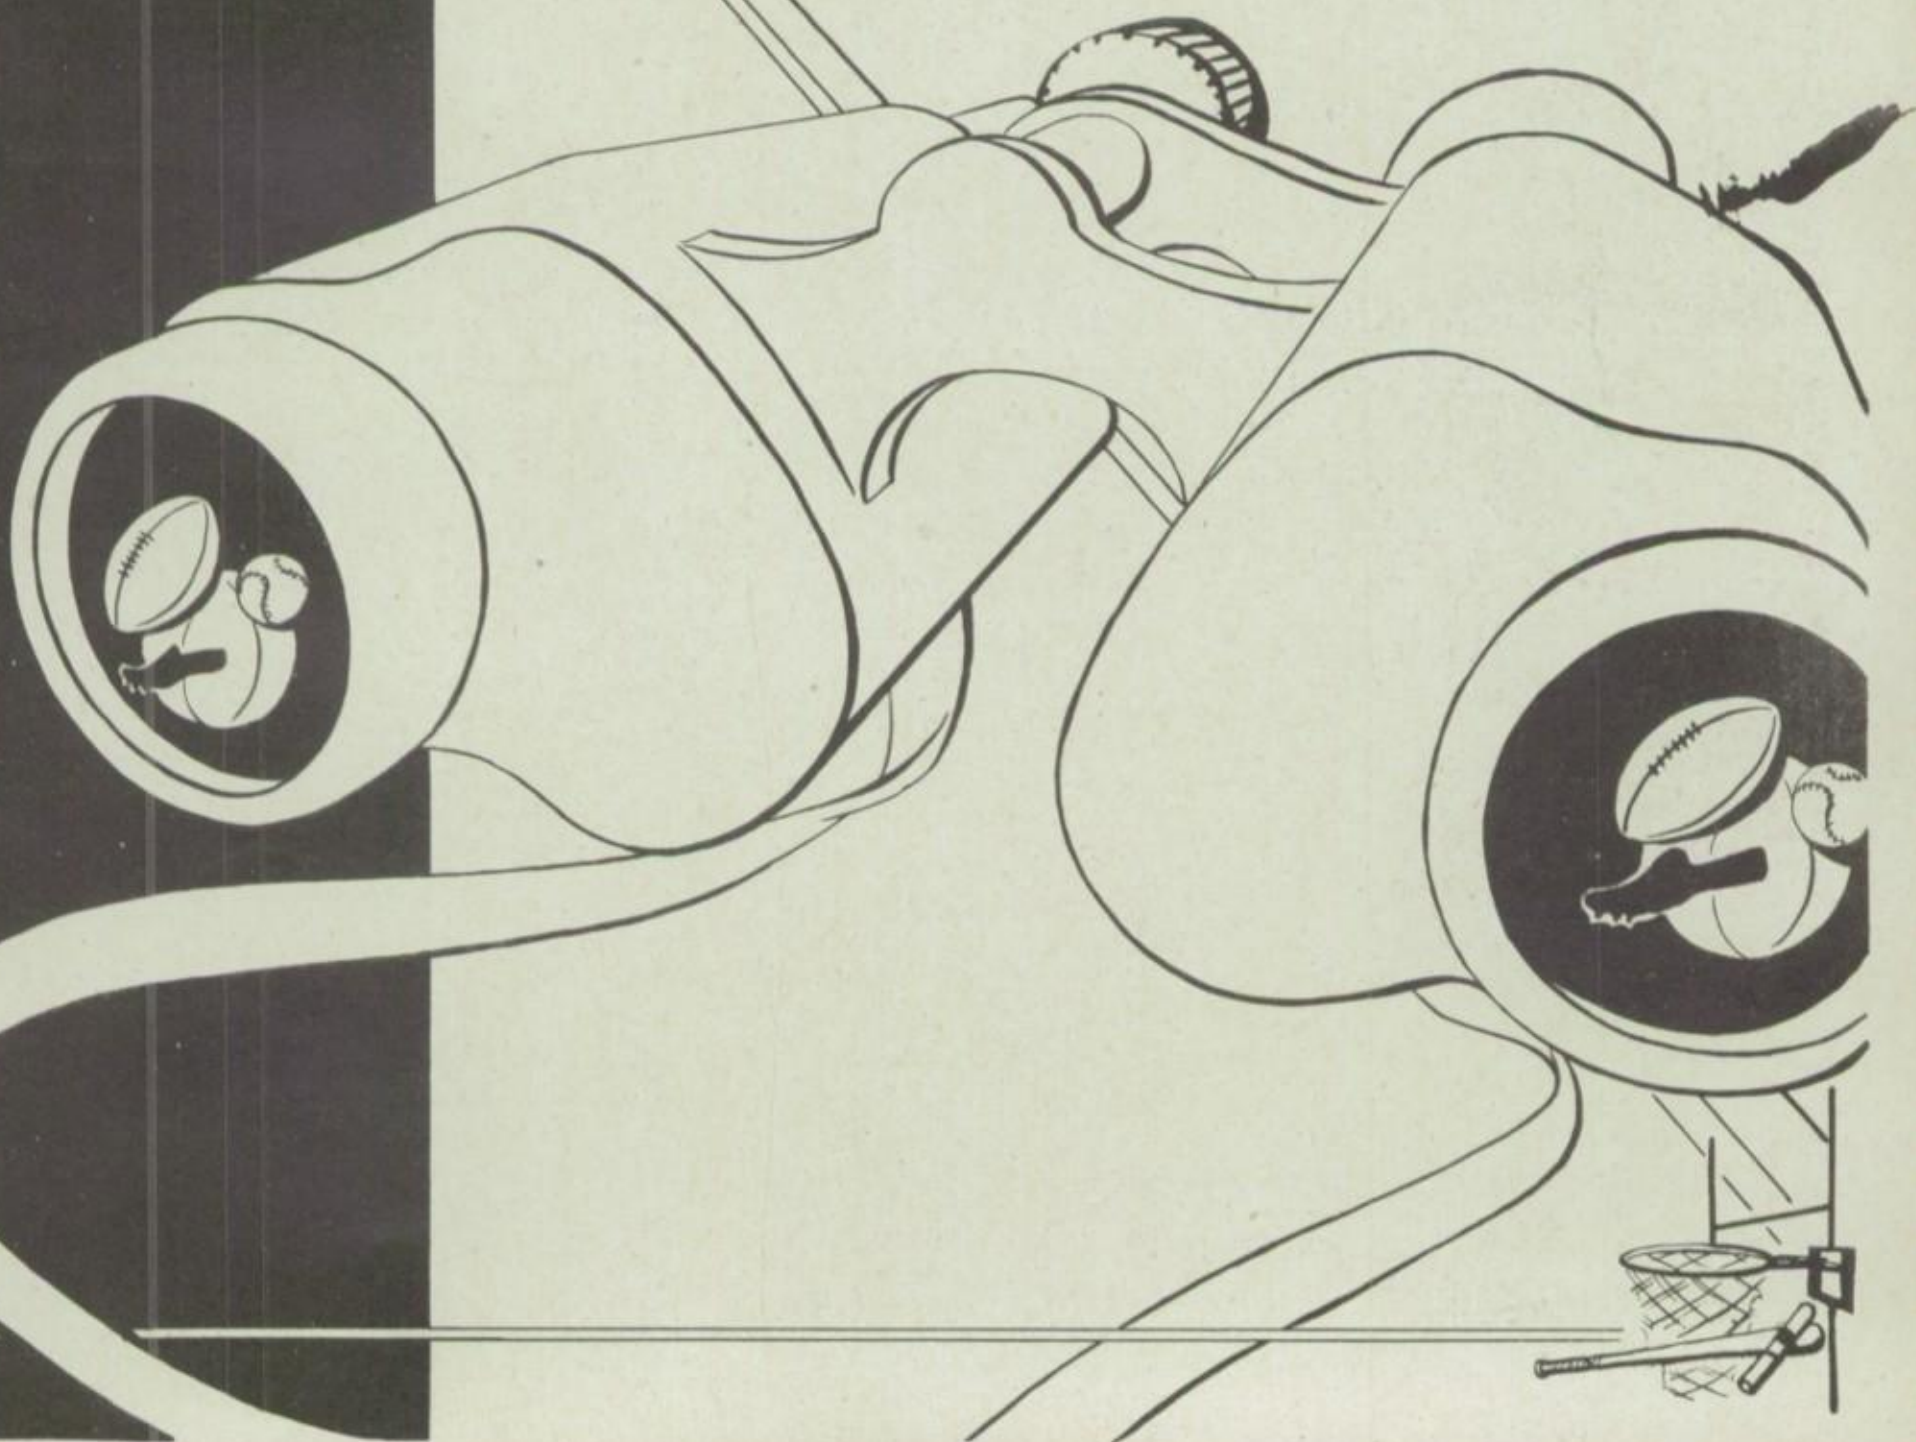

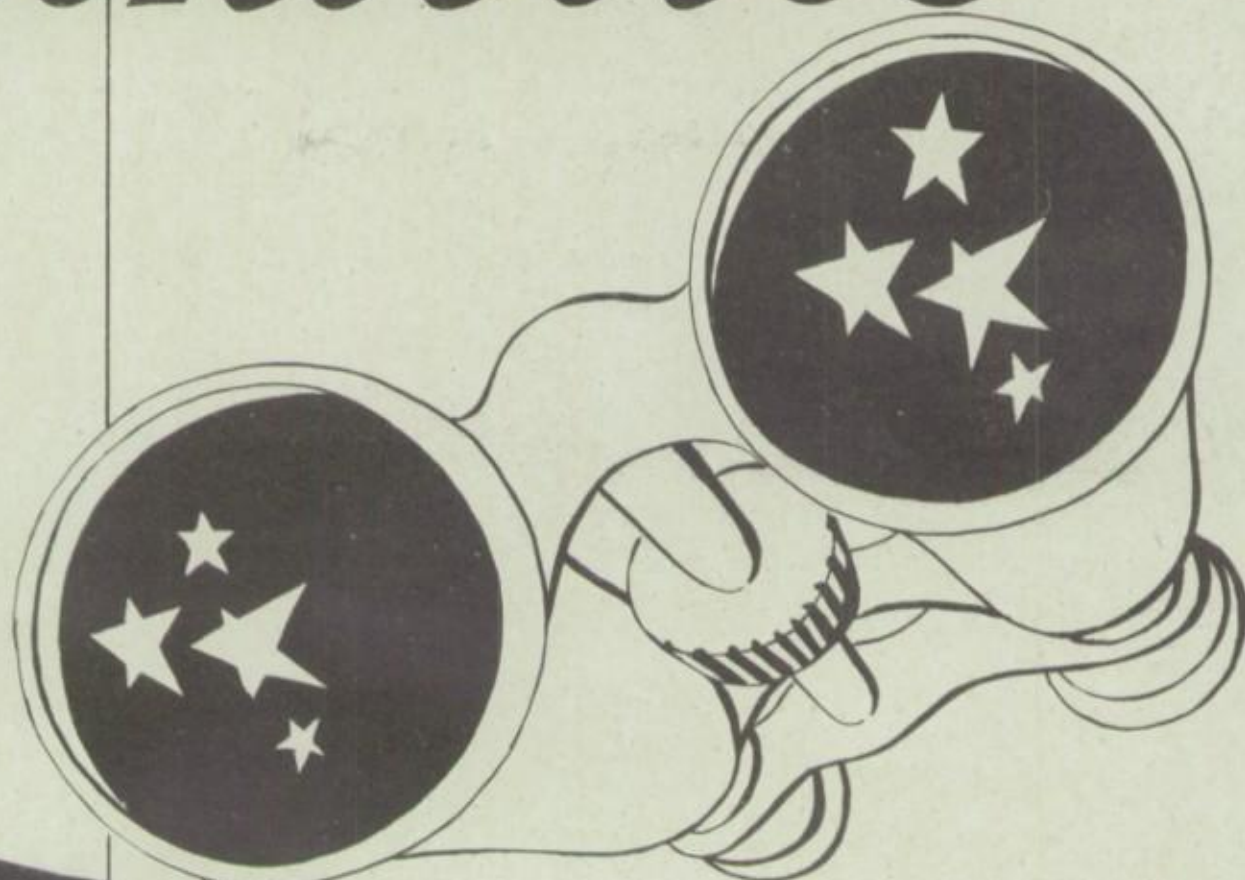

The seventh grade class is learning the fundamental steps in dancing the two step, one step, and waltz. They also have many novelty dances like the Ko-Ke-Ko, Broom dance, the Conga, Schottische and Polka. The eighth grade group have more advanced steps and improve the ones they learned last year as well as novelty dances. The class work was demonstrated by several junior high students in model dance classes.

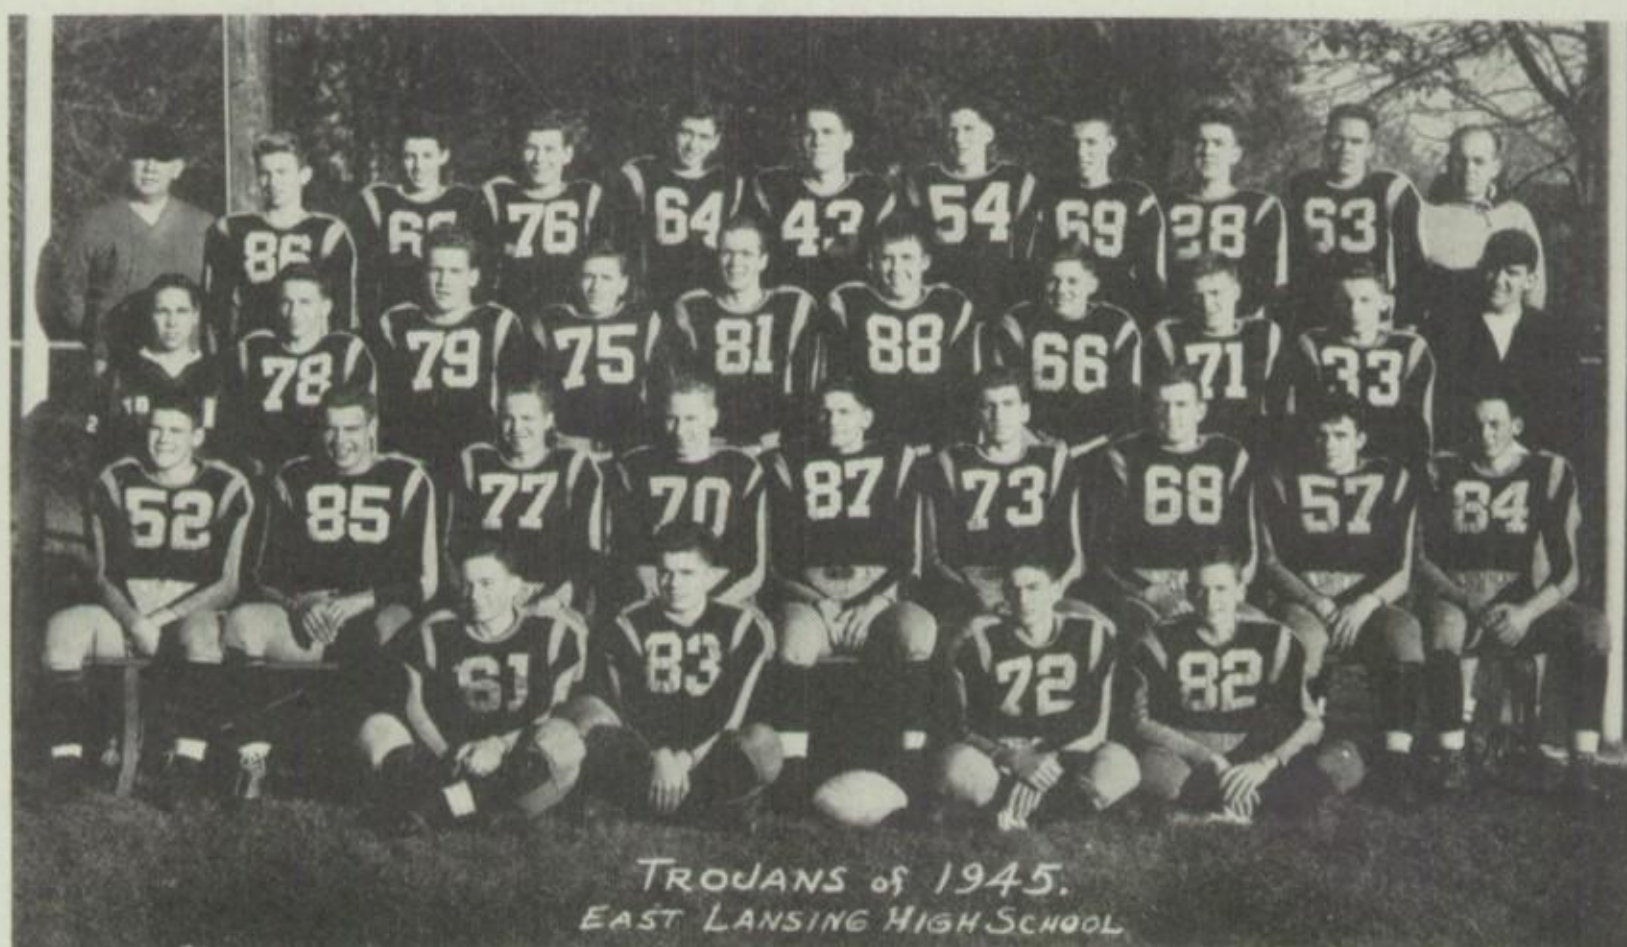

Miss Dooley and Miss Hoffman are the instructors for dance classes. Miss Dooley also furnishes the music on the piano or uses the pdayback.

Varsity Football

THE LARGEST NUMBER of boys in the history of East Lansing High School came out for football this year. However, out of over one hundred boys only one regular and four lettermen from last year reported for practice. This, coupled with a tough eight-game schedule, cut out a difficult task for Coach Dale Faunce.

Nevertheless, after three short weeks of practice the Trojan team met a weak Alma eleven on the home gridiron and smacked them down with an 18—6 victory. This made it thirteen straight for the Big Blues of East Lansing.

Turning to the Twin Valley Conference, the Trojans journeyed to Sturgis with their ranks depleted by injuries. Playing in a steady downpour, in a game characterized by fumbles, they went down to defeat, 7—0. The following week, still handicapped by injuries and playing for the first time under lights on their home field, the Trojans again met defeat. This time it was at the hands of a fast and alert Marshall team: the score, 27—0. The next week a hard-fighting East Lansing eleven suddenly began to click and trampled all over Albion to win 20—0. At Battle Creek, they barely nosed out a small Lakeview team, 19—14. Then, exhibiting about the best football of the season, the Trojans punched out an 18—0 victory over a strong Hillsdale eleven. Joe Slotnick ran 75 yards for a touchdown on the first play East Lansing tried. The next Friday was Homecoming for the Men of Troy, and for them it was a field day as they scored again and again against a completely helpless Coldwater. It was a good workout for the boys since everyone got into the game. 51—0 was the final score.

Winding up the season, the Trojan lads went to Mt. Pleasant where they were handed a staggering 39—0 defeat at the hands of a powerful "Oiler" team which had been beaten only twice, and those by top teams in the state.

Thus the boys from East Lansing rounded out a successful season with five wins against three losses. They won third place in the Twin Valley and had four victories in the Conference as compared with two defeats.

RALPH STRIBE

Ralph, a newcomer from Milwaukee, exhibited exceptional ability and aggressiveness. He made the All-Conference team and was voted co-captain by his team mates.

JOE SLOTNICK

Joe—a speedy and powerful runner, brilliant passer, and jarring tackler—made the All-Conference team and was voted the Most Valuable Player.

DICK OTTO

Dick was a hard-blocking, hard-tackling little guard—a good all-round player. He received honorable mention for the All-Conference team.

JACK DINGMAN

Jack excelled on defense, but had a troublesome nake. He got All-Conference honorable mention and was voted co-captain of the team.

JIM MUNCIE

Senior Quarterback

"Blimp" was somewhat slow, but powerful; a good quick-kicker and pass catcher. He got honorable mention for the All-Conference team.

ERNIE BUESCHLEN

Ernie was outstanding as a pass catcher and speedster. He was also a good passer and played the game for all it was worth.

ROLF AMUNDSON

Rolf came back to East Lansing after a year in Wisconsin. He proved to be a dependable part of the Trojan forward wall.

BILL CAMERON

Senior Right Guard

Bill called the defensive signals for the team and did a good job of it. He was aggressive and a dependable tackler and blocker.

IRVING HILL

Senior Quarterback

Irving wasn't on the starting lineup; but he played a lot and Coach considered him a regular. He was a fierce blocker and tackler.

RAY RENNER

Ray is rather light for varsity ball, but he's fast and a game player. He made a touchdown against Coldwater.

CARY BACHMAN

Junior Fullback

Cary was a regular center last year. Changed to fullback, he showed real passing and running ability, making many of the Trojan touchdowns.

JOHN MEYER

Junior Center

John was vicious on defense, making a large percentage of the tackles. He missed a few games in mid-season due to a back injury.

BILL FAUNCE

Senior End

Bill is another rather small boy, but he's game as they come. He was usually safety man and rarely missed a tackle.

KEN MARSHALL

Ken was the lightest first string player but surely made up for it in grit. He was fast and a savage blocker.

BOB LUCAS

Senior Guard

Bob was one of the second string linemen who take a beating in practice but don't play much. He really deserves his letter.

OLIN WHITTEMORE

Senior Manager

Olin did a very fine job looking after the equipment and the team even though this was only his first year as manager.

Coaching Staff

LYNN C. ADAMS

Assistant Coach

Of the three coaches Mr. Adams has been connected with E. L. H. S. the longest. When Fred Shaver was here, Mr. Adams helped him coach football. This year Mr. Adams coached the Wildcat team and did a very fine job of it.

DALE FAUNCE

Director of Athletics

Although Coach Faunce has been at E. L. H. S. only two short years, he has accomplished much. Last year he turned out an undefeated gridiron eleven and the first Trojan basketball quintet ever to reach the State Finals. This year Coach had a better than .500 average in football and put out a fine basketball team. He is friendly to all and, though he expects hard work from his teams, is just in every way; he commands respect from all who know him.

LAWRENCE COOKE

Assistant Coach

Mr. Cook was a newcomer to East Lansing this year, and he left at the end of the first semester to take a position at Michigan State. He took over the mentorship of the Reserve squad, and Coach Faunce found him to be an able assistant.

DR. C. H. BRITTON

Team Physician

"Doc", as the boys call him, is practically the indispensable man around the Trojan teams. He is always on hand, at games and during practice, to take care of the minor injuries which are always appearing and to tape the boys' ankles and wrists before games. Doc Britton surely deserves a vote of thanks from the boys of East Lansing. We hope that having his picture in the '46 Ceniad may express, at least in part, our appreciation of his services.

WYMAN DAVIS

Assistant Coach

At the beginning of the second semester Mr. Davis, fresh from three years in the Navy, arrived at E. L. H. S. to take Mr. Cook's place on the coaching staff and also to teach the morning boys' gym classes. An outstanding athlete at MSC before the war, he has charge of the reserve basketball team and will coach baseball this spring.

Back row: H. Burr, J. Meyer, J. Slotnick, B. Killeen, B. Hendrick.

First row: K. Edelson, K. Marshall, J. Branaman, C. Bachman, T. Swift.

Varsity Basketball

THE TROJANS of East Lansing had a moderately successful season this year. Coach Dale Faunce lost five key seniors last year but built up a team which, after an inauspicious start, won their last four games to place third in the Twin Valley League.

The Blues started off the season with three non-conference games. The first one was against Midland who downed the Trojans, 42—27. The other two were with Mt. Pleasant; both contests went to the Oilers by scores of 39—38 and 47—21.

The first Twin Valley game was against Hillsdale, who finally won the Conference title. East Lansing lost this one by a score of 48—34. But against Lakeview they came up with a 38—31 victory. Next Coldwater avenged its football rout by coming from behind to hand the Blues a 42—25 defeat. But the Trojans charged back with an impressive 42—20 triumph over Albion. Then the Trojans nipped Marshall in a thrilling fourth period rally, 37—33. The erratic Trojan quintet next met defeat at Sturgis, 1945 class B champs, to the tune of 32—23. The following week Lakeview took a 31—27 decision from the Trojans, winning on free throws. Journeying to Hillsdale, the Blues were again downed by the Dales; this time, 45—34. The heretofore unpredictable Trojan five suddenly found the range and took a thriller from Marshall in an overtime, 48—46; John Branaman really went to town in this contest and hit the hoop for 20 points. The Blues next upset the then league-leading Cardinals of Coldwater by a score of 38—34. Sturgis was next to fall to the Trojans as the Blues came from behind in the fourth quarter to cop a 43—40 win. The victory was sweet since Sturgis had forced East Lansing to be content with the runner-up position in the 1945 basketball tournament, and had defeated the Blues both on the gridiron and on the hardwoods earlier this year. In the last game of the season the Big Blues again pushed by Albion, 42—36. The Trojans finished in third place in the Conference with seven loop victories against five defeats. But the ledger isn't in the black for the Trojans when the non-conference games are averaged in: seven wins, eight losses.

Starting off the tournaments East Lansing subdued a fighting Lansing Technical High five, 36—33. Against Howell the Trojans had an off night, but managed to come off with a 27—24 triumph and the district crown. But the Trojans fell to Charlotte in the regionals, 33—25; thus being eliminated from further tournament play.

The Trojans will lose five seniors this June, but Coach Faunce will have five experienced players back to work with next winter plus a few reserves who have shown promise.

Track

IN THE 1945 track season the East Lansing thinclads scheduled four meets and came out on the short end in each one.

The cindermen opened their season with the Big Reds of Sexton on the college track and came closer to winning than at any other time. Even so, Sexton got  $58\frac{1}{2}$  points to East Lansing's  $45\frac{1}{2}$ . However, the Trojans took six first places. For the next meet, they journeyed to Howell and were defeated on a muddy track,  $68\frac{1}{2}$  to  $35\frac{1}{2}$ . Two days later the Trojan trackmen competed in a triangular meet with Midland and Alma, getting a bare  $18\frac{2}{5}$  points. Against Charlotte they turned in their second best performance, getting  $42\frac{1}{2}$  points against Charlotte's  $61\frac{1}{2}$ .

In the regional at Owosso, East Lansing placed fourth with 29 points.

Dick Collinge, Don Thaden, Ted Stroud, and the relay team competed in the state meet in which they picked up  $7\frac{1}{2}$  points. Don Thaden won the State Championship in the half mile and set a new school record with a time of 2:04.5. Dick Collinge took sixth in the low hurdles, but in the preliminaries he came within a tenth of a second of the school record. Ted Stroud got sixth place in the one mile run.

Collinge and Thaden graduated last year. However, Coach Lynn Adams will have some good material this year in Ernie Bueschlen, Ted Stroud, Bill Wise, and John Landon, all of whom won varsity letters.

HOWARD STODDARD, '45
State Tennis Champion
Class B 1945

Tennis

THERE WAS one bright spot in the 1945 tennis season. Howard Stoddard, East Lansing's star singles man, won the State Championship in the class B singles without even losing a set. Stoddard made a perfect record in high school competition, never losing a match in four years of tennis, and not even a set in his senior year. He graduated last year, and his racket will be sorely missed this spring.

The Trojan netmen engaged in six matches in the '45 season; two each with Lansing Sexton, Lansing Eastern, and Battle Creek Lakeview. East Lansing defeated Lakeview twice, 5—0 and 3—2. However, East Lansing didn't get anywhere with either Sexton or Eastern. Sexton whipped the Trojan tennis men, 7—0 and 6—1. The former score is accounted for by the fact that Stoddard didn't play in that meet. East Lansing did a little better against Eastern, losing by scores of 5—2 and 4—3.

In the regional tennis meet East Lansing placed second, being nosed out by Cadillac.

The Trojans have some promising material coming to the fore this season, even though, along with Stoddard,

East Lansing lost the services of '45 seniors Charles Theroux and Bill Wells, a doubles team. Ted Swift, number two man on the team last year, will be back this spring together with Bob Kettenun, number three man, and Howard Weaver, all singles men.

Cross Country

LAST FALL, for the first time in its history, East Lansing High School was represented in the cross country run.

Ted Stroud and Paul Rood ran in the State Meet which was run off at Ypsilanti on October 27. East Lansing had no chance whatever to win the team title as five runners are needed to make up a team. Stroud took second place and Rood took eighth place among the sixty-nine boys entered. Stroud was but fifteen seconds behind the winner.

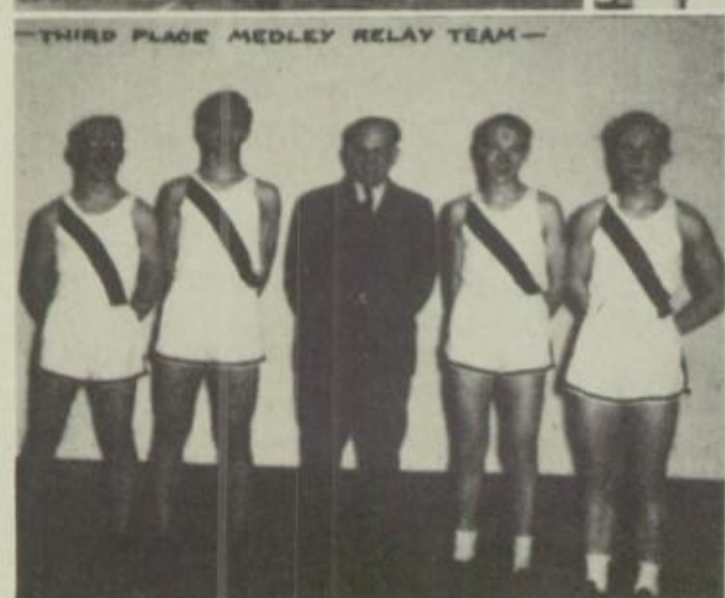

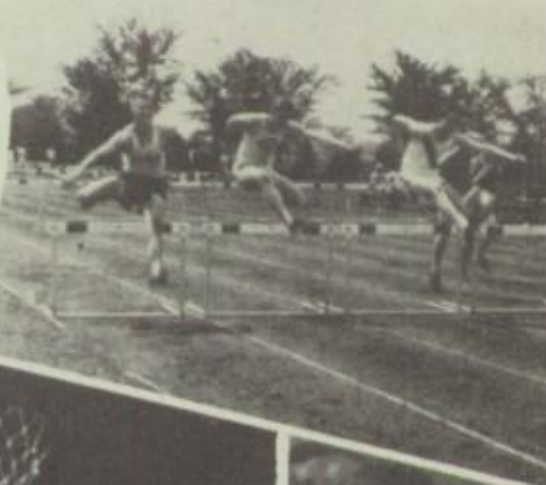

Both Stroud and Rood are seniors and so will not be back next fall.

*Thursdays—Thursdays—in room 210,
 The Ceniad staff is at work again;
 Four o'clock—six o'clock—half past eight,
 They work and slave 'till very late.
 Thursdays—Thursdays—what do we find?
 Jo counting names—she's nearly blind,
 Don and Barb are almost sick,
 They're pasting pictures—the paste won't stick.
 Anita is working on the junior high,
 Poor Miss Beaumont heaves a sigh,
 Olin is dejected and out of sorts,
 He's lost all he's written on sport reports.
 Sorting snapshots are Mrs. Myers and Honey,
 While John and Je Anne count the money;
 Dick just sits with a far-away stare,
 Joan Allen and Nancy are tearing their hair.
 Now Marianna appears in the door,
 She has been typing upon the third floor
 With Joan Washburn and Ella—it isn't much fun—
 They've been working for hours. Will they ever be done?
 Spud and Bob just spilled the paint,
 At this point Miss Beaumont falls in a faint.
 Thursdays—Thursdays in room 210,
 Here is your Ceniad—Amen!*
